2025 Scientific Activities Report

Saudi Endodontic Society (SES)

Executive Summary

The Saudi Endodontic Society (SES) demonstrates national and international reach in 2025 through diverse scientific activities. Anchored by the 13th Annual Conference in Riyadh, complemented by specialized workshops, 10 regional symposia across all Saudi regions—from Qassim to Al Ahsa—and 5 international webinars with global experts, SES fosters endodontic advancement via CME-accredited programs.

- Aiming to the Apex (Dec 26 | Al Ahsa)

3. INTERNATIONAL LIVE WEBINAR SERIES

Impact and Objectives: SES events are CME-accredited, focusing on advanced endodontic techniques. International webinars transfer global expertise, enhancing national practice standards, skill development, and patient outcomes across Saudi Arabia.

- Updates in Regenerative Endodontics (Sept 27)
- External Invasive Resorption (Prof. Paul Abbott, Oct 24)
- Flap Selection (Dr. Spyros Floratos, Nov 7)
- Tooth Survival (Dr. Helena Fransson, Dec 13)
- AAE vs ESE Vital Pulp (Dec 19)

Impact and Objectives

All 2025 SES activities provide CME accreditation, ensuring professional development.

Objectives include skill enhancement in microsurgery, retreatment, and regenerative endodontics, with international knowledge transfer from experts like Prof. Paul Abbott and Dr. Helena Fransson.
